

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

PROG BAND LOBATE SCARP LAUNCHES KICKSTARTER CAMPAIGN FOR EPIC SECOND ALBUM

11/22/2019 (Los Angeles, California)- Indie progressive-rock band Lobate Scarp has launched a new Kickstarter campaign for their full-length album follow up to their 2019 EP Spirals and Portals, entitled You Have It All. According to their Kickstarter page, the new studio album will serve as an expansion to Spirals and Portals, interweaving the tracks within the album to tell a more cohesive story.

Rich Mouser, whose mixing repertoire includes Spock's Beard, Transatlantic, Neal Morse, will not only once again mix the album, but also produce. Current members of Yes, Billy Sherwood and Jon Davison, as well as Spock's Beard Keyboardist Ryo Okumoto will appear as guest musicians. Steve Leavitt, producer of Time and Space, will also return to co-produce. David A. Hardy, the world's oldest living space artist, has once again created the album cover art, which has been revealed on the Kickstarter site. Prog rock fans will especially appreciate the two 15-minute tracks they have planned including the album title track, a strong edgy piece with made up of several parts.

You Have It All's Kickstarter campaign, features a variety of great pledge rewards such as a special edition 2-CD booklet containing lyrics, credits, art, and a bonus disc containing an entirely instrumental version of the album. Some of the higher-level pledge rewards include T-shirts, a visit to a recording session at The Mouse House, house concerts, and very limited hand-knit "got prog?" drink cozys and Lobate scarves.

Check out the You Have It All Kickstarter page at <http://gotprog.com>

Lobate Scarp is a progressive opera-rock band located in Los Angeles. Their influences are far and wide and range from classic prog-rock of the 70's such as Genesis and Yes, to 80's pop to modern music as well as musical theater. Their debut Time and Space was made possible in 2012 by a successful Kickstarter campaign and has since received accolades from all over the world, played on radio shows, podcasts, and had reviews published in numerous music publications. The band is making their RoSfest debut next year in Sarasota, Florida and if their Kickstarter campaign is successful, they plan on having the new album ready for the festival weekend. "Spotlessly produced and skillfully performed, the music is large and panoramic in scope. Highly recommended for fans of symphonic prog". - Jerry Lucky (The Progressive Rock Files)

###

For further information, interviews, or media requests, contact:

Adam Sears

5460 White Oak Ave

Encino, CA, USA

310.699.7174

adam@lobatescarp.com

Lobate Scarp Website: <http://lobatescarp.com>

Lobate Scarp Kickstarter: <http://gotprog.com>